

Pitch Your Change!

New at this year's Annual Quality Conference— A pitch competition!

Are you leading a quality improvement or care transformation project that needs a little support to move to the next level? Consider pitching your idea!

HealthInsight Oregon offers an opportunity at our October 26 conference for conference participants to compete for a $1,000 Grand Prize to support a QI or transformation project of their own design, related to conference core topics. Selected teams will pitch their project concept to the conference audience, who will vote to choose the winning proposal.

Selection Criteria:

1. Your project idea helps your patients, health care setting or community.
2. You have a plan in place and other resources dedicated to implementing your proposed project, and it will result in lasting change.
3. Your project relates to a conference core topic.

Conference Core Topics:

- Care coordination
- Chronic disease self-management and prevention
- End-of-life care
- Merit-based Incentive Payment System (MIPS)
- Opioids and alternatives

Here's how to participate:

1. Submit your project idea by September 29.
Sign up via SurveyMonkey to pitch your idea!
There is time in the conference session for up to six project pitches. HealthInsight will review all submissions and contact those selected by October 5.
2. Work with HealthInsight staff to hone your pitch.
We'll assist all selected teams, to give you the best chance at delivering a winning pitch. Each project will have 5 minutes to present to the conference audience.
3. Conference attendees will determine the grand prize winner.
HealthInsight will announce the winner at the end of the conference.

Questions?

Contact Rebekah Bally, rbally@healthinsight.org.