Clinician and Organizational Vitality Resources

The Institute, in partnership with the Oregon Health Authority's Transformation Center, recently added resources centered on clinician and organizational vitality and wellness. The Clinician and Organizational Vitality resources are designed to help educate not only physicians, but all healthcare clinicians, staff, and leadership about tools and resources available to them to deal with both personal and professional changes in the workplace, their changing clinical roles, and the potential for burnout. These include two webinars and over 40 national and local resources, and you can choose to view them all or filter to Oregon-specific resources.

Behavioral Health Integration Resource Library

This fall the Institute announced the launch of the Behavioral Health Integration Resource Library, in partnership with the Oregon Health Authority's Transformation Center. In addition to the great resources the Institute already offers, the library is a comprehensive repository for information, tools, and examples of integrated care solutions - including virtual clinic visits, expert interview videos, webinars, toolkits, screeners, checklists, and more - to support integrated care implementation and quality improvement.

Another Successful TA Learning Network Event

Each year the Institute hosts a networking and learning event for members of our Technical Assistance (TA) Learning Network. The Network consists of primary care professionals who support primary care practices as they work to meet their transformation goals. This year, 65 members of the Technical Assistance Learning Network convened on June 9 to swap ideas and tools through structured networking, peer-lead learning, and breakout sessions led by TA Network members. Additionally, this year's event included a panel discussion on the role of practice coaches and facilitators from different organizational perspectives. Read more about this year's event.
